

NEW PRODUCT LAUNCH

PRESERVING AN ICONIC IMAGE

There is now a new product on the market which will help keep this iconic symbol of Britain alive for future generations...

DESCRIPTION

- LUXURIOUSLY upholstered in E-Leather with TELEPHONE signs that illuminate, it is a truly amazing looking piece of furniture that will look great in any surroundings.
- This phone box was last situated at Trafalgar Square, London, WC2N 5DS.
- It was manufactured at the Carron Foundry and is one of the earliest K6s manufactured in Britain.
- Dimension: 8ft 4in x 3ft x 3ft

Jason@britishbits.co.uk

Tel: +44 (0) 1778 561451

CALL
NOW
FOR MORE
INFO

We at BritishBits have taken a cast from a Pre 1939 Mark 1 K6 original telephone box, and created a fibreglass version which has been converted to a Sofa / Lounger. It looks exactly like an original telephone box, only lighter.

Not even Sir Giles Gilbert Scott could have foreseen how iconic a symbol of Britain the red telephone box would become when he was commissioned to design the Kiosk Number 6 to commemorate the Silver Jubilee of King George V.

Although around 60,000 K6's were erected only approximately 13,000 remain on the streets today. The majority of boxes were scrapped or are in the hands of private individuals who use them as "Garden Architecture". The result being that the red telephone box is now a collector's item and very difficult to get hold of... or was...

*Contact us to secure your own
"Iconic symbol of Britain".*

British Bits

Preserving the past for future generations

